PENALTIES.

Penalty for making, signing or issuing any instrument, document or paper of any kind whatsoever, or shall accept, negotiate or pay, or cause to be accepted, negotiated or paid, any bill of exchange, draft or order, or promissory note for the payment of money, without the same being duly stamped, or denoting the duty by law imposed thereon, $50; and the instrument shall be deemed invalid and of no effect; or for counterfeiting stamps or dies, $1,000 and imprisoned to hard labor for no exceeding five years. OTHER PROVISIONS.

Instruments are not to be recorded unless properly stamped.

No instrument is invalid for the want of the particular kind of stamps designated, provided a legal stamp of equal amount (except proprietary stamps) is duly affixed.

All official instruments, documents, and papers issued or used by officers of the United States government, or by the officers of any State, county or other municipal corporation, are exempt.

In cases where an adhesive stamp shall be used for denoting any duty imposed by this act, the person using or affixing the same shall write thereon the initials of his name, and date upon which the same shall be attached or used, so that the same may not again be used, under a penalty of $50.

The party to whom a document is issued from a foreign country, or by whom it is to be issued, shall, before using the same, affix thereon the stamp or stamps indicating the duty required.

Proprietors of cosmetics, medicines, or proprietary articles, may furnish private dies, and are allowed 5 per cent. on all purchases of $500; over $500 10 per cent.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN.

In presenting the AUTOMATIC ORGAN we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate; but the want of the reversed or EXHAUSTION BELLOWS, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was, that both feet being occupied no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell. Within the past two years, instrumen's constructed on this European plan of "double blowers" have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell, and operated by the knee The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object, are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our AUTOMATIC device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force, giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of the tone We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

The Melodeon and School Organ.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

Caution to Purchasers.

All of our instruments have upon the name board in full, "GEO A. PRINCE & CO"—When a dealer represents any other instrument as "the same as ours" it is usually a mere attempt to sell an inferior instrument on which he can make a larger profit.

MANHOOD.

IN THE YOUNG AND RISING GENERATION, the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and the macilated form, and the impossibility of mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from the ordinary diversions of the ever changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which Nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation, and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! incessant appetite has grown by what it fed on, and the energies of the system are prostrated and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman is looked forward to in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S

FLUID EXTRACT

OF BUCHU

For Weakness arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

Attended with the following symptoms:

Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspepsia Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing the more dread for Fear of Themselves. Repose of Manner, Inquietness, Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this Medicine invariably removes, soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits, in one of which he may expire

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson, at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; Dr. Wilson had for a time left them and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by the direst diseases Insanity and consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the statements are frightful exhibitions of years. The consumptive is actually seldom and quite destitute—neither Mother or Friend ever visits his bed—neither Mother or Friend ever visits his couch and should a sound of the voice occur, it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds his grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseased symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of cheap cost to the removal of the consequences necessary for the removal of the consequences—

Jonathan Worth

OF RANDOLPH COUNTY.

The Newbern, little twinkler, that reflects the last dying rays of the San Salvador sun, as it sets on the indigo fields of that hilly and mountainous country, catches the inspiration of the balmy zephyrs coming from the far distant Pacific, and, gathering fresh fragrance from the numerous exotics and indigenous plants that adorn the Standard "grounds," as they advance towards the Atlantic, fills the little twinkler office with their intoxicating perfumes, and makes him happy as his own dear cuffie in his prospective elevation to "impartial suffrage."

We would not obstruct a ray of this setting sun, as it reflects its twi-light dimness through the towering oaks of Raleigh and the umbrageous elms of Newbern on the flickering disc of the little twinkler; but cuffie's shadow—alas! cuffie's shadow has still further obscured its native dimness by a total eclipse.

How frail is the memory of man! We once believed that the Newbern Progress was an out-and-out rebel sheet. The present editor of the little twinkler made many a pilgrimage to the courts and country to build up his fortunes. Its editor was one of the first to fly to arms. Many and loud were the boastings of the good old Progress over that patriotic act. Still the present editor of the Times toiled and travelled night and day to circulate that paper and its doctrines? But why waste time and paper? Does not the editor of the little twinkler, alias the Times, remind us that public men have generally one opinion for themselves and another for the people? Was this his case?

We have no desire to write a radical sheet into notice that is scarcely known beyond the limits of the town where it is published. The Standard and its numerous echoes brought desolating war and its consequent poverty and woe and death upon the country; and, joining with the radicals of the North, they would now place the Southern white man in a state of unutterable degradation, by forcing him, under duress to stultify himself and vote himself no more—if not less—than the negro at the ballot box.

But have we any congressional promise that, by the States' severally adopting the Howard amendment—which disfranchises nine-tenths of the whites of the South—have we any such promise from congress, that these States will be admitted into the Union? The radical papers of the North universally declare we have no such promise. The Boston "IMPARTIAL SUFFRAGE LEAGUE" declare there is no such promise on record. President Johnson is opposed to the adoption of the Howard amendment by the States, and for that is denounced as a traitor and threatened with impeachment; and strange to say there are radical sheets in NorthCarolina which profess to advocate the President's policy and unblushingly urge the adoption of the Howard amendment.

Mr. Mingar, of Cairo, in a recent speech before a radical meeting in that vicinity, said:

"He hoped to see the day when Fred Douglass would be President, negro governments in every Southern State, negro Senators and Representatives in Congress, and no bar raised against the perfect equality in society, and in politics, of our patriotic fellow citizens of African descent."

And this sentiment was greeted by tremendous applause. Well may we enquire with anxious heart, what is to be our future?

☞ Very soon after the close of the war, our towns and cities were thronged with preachers from the North, who were sent among us as missionaries, to teach us the way of salvation, and to tell us of our wickedness, and, if possible, civilize and evangelize the barbarians of the South. Well, if they are, in truth, thought we, embassadors of Christ, we have nothing to say against them, for we felt, that we were a very wicked people, and needed all the good advice that could be given us. Yet, we thought we had heard the gospel preached, by as good men as the present times afford; and we knew that the bible had been placed in our hands just as soon as we could read—and, more than that, we verily believed that our land possessed as much of true religion, as the more favored northern clime from whence these divines came.

How much good these missionaries to we heathen, have effected, we are not able to say. We do know, however, that they have gotten through with the work very rapidly, as but few remain among us—and these few, are getting ready to go home, as their fields of labor have grown very small.

On this subject of sending preachers South, the New York "Journal of Commerce" thus discourseth:

"The truth is, there is ample work at home for those who devote their energies to improving the moral condition of their fellow-men, wherever home may happen to be. We were riding in a railway car in the Connecticut valley from Springfield northward on the 4th of July last, and had an opportunity of seeing some of the young men of that part of the world, for they crowded the train in the evening, on their way home from celebrations at various places. We have not for years heard such an outburst of profanity and indecency as made the car in which we rode hideous for an hour between Bellows Falls and the stations north of it. About fifty young men were in the car, mostly half drunk, and notwithstanding the presence of several ladies, the boisterous language and conduct of these young men indicated the most thorough debasement of character. Certainly there is ample room for the labors of good men among this class in the Connecticut valley. But it is not to be imagined that the beautiful valley of the Connecticut is any worse in this regard than any other parts of the country. We have stated the fact only to show that it is desirable for all parts of the country to 'look at home.'"

VAGRANTS.

Our streets from day to day are overflowing with idle negroes, who have no means of support, and who refuse on all occasions to work.—There is work enough for all to do, white and black, and no one should be allowed to lead an idle or dissolute life within the city limits. The laws of the city and State are very stringent on this subject, and we should like to see them rigidly enforced. The city Code says "every pauper, vagrant, and idle or disorderly person of evil life, or ill fame; every person who has no fixed place of residence and no visible means of support; and every person who begs or loiters about the streets or other public places, shall be arrested and carried before the Mayor, and upon conviction shall be fined or put in the chain gang," &c. The State law is even more rigid than the city.—There are at the present time hundreds of idle negroes roaming our streets. They refuse to work; and as they have no visible means of support, it would be well for our authorities to enforce strictly the laws. This is no time for idlers and vagabonds. All must work.—Montgomery Ala. Mail.

Poor, deluded creatures. And so it is in the city of Newbern, many hundred are there doing nothing, but prowling about the streets in their rags. It is a mystery, that they live at all. A few days since, when we were down there, our curiosity was taxed to its utmost, to divine how these poor creatures obtained bread sufficient to keep them alive; yet, they appeared cheerful, and looked fat and saucy.

One afternoon, the Frank Johnson band played a number of pieces in front of the Gaston House, which drew together a vast concourse of these ragged freedmen—we should say about three hundred—and it actually became necessary to call on the police to keep them from crowding into the hotel, and to keep the pavement clear. Raleigh and Wilmington are similarly afflicted.—Goldsboro' is exempt of the idlers.

A river man, from Pittsburg, says that he never before saw so much coal as at present there, awaiting a shipment. The river is lined with coal for four miles, six barges deep—a quantity sufficient to give all the cities below a years supply. There is also a large quantity at Pomeroy awaiting shipment. The price of black diamonds must come down.

GOING UP.

From an advertisement of J. V. H. Allen, Secretary and Treasurer of the National Express Company, we learn that a meeting of the Stockholders in the company, will be held in Richmond on the 9th inst., looking to the discontinuance of the company. It is not certain that this will be done, however, as the business of the company is reported as having been good, but, should the stockholders not pay up their installments promptly at that meeting the presumption is pretty clear that the company will cease to exist.

THE CONSPIRACY TO HANG JEFF. DAVIS.—In another column will be found a communication from Judge Advocate General Holt, in which he denies the authenticity of certain letters purporting to have been written by him, which we have heretofore published, in relation to an attempt to suborn witnesses for the purpose of implicating Jeff. Davis in the crime of assassinating the lamented President Lincoln. We have no desire to impugn the motives or to assail the standing of Judge Holt, but upon comparing the original letters with the manuscript of his denial, we are forced, in the absence of a microscopic test, to pronounce them written by the same hand.—The letters may be seen at this office either by the Judge-Advocate-General or any other person who may feel curious in regard to the matter. N. Y. Herald.

The London Times states that the last census of Ireland revealed the remarkable fact that there were but two Jews in the entire southwest of Ireland. One of them lived in Munster, and one in Connought.

BOTTS—HIS MISFORTUNES.—As J. Minor Botts stepped from a train at Centre street depot, at Newark, N. J. on Thursday evening, he was informed by the conductor that his baggage, which was in the car, could not be removed until the train reached the Market street depot. He attempted to step upon the car, which was in motion, and in so doing he slipped, nearly falling under the wheels. He was, however, only a little bruised.

He is robbed.—The Baltimore Sun of Saturday says:

Mr. John Minor Botts, of Virginia, reports that he was robbed in Baltimore yesterday, at the railroad depot, of $140 and some valuable papers. The detectives are after the thieves.

NEGRO MEETING IN PITTSBURG.—PITTSBURG, Sept. 28.—From a special dispatch to the New York Tribune, we learn that a large meeting of colored citizens was held to-night in the New City Park; among them were two companies of the black boys in blue, who fought as part of the army of the James, under Butler, and Nashville under General Thomas.—Frederick Douglass spoke upon the political situation, and criticised with severity the Constitutional Amendment. He described the provisos as a cheat to the loyal negroes.

James Redpath spoke of the recent Convention, and said its platform did not express the highest convictions of the brave men who composed it, but had been constructed to suit the views of a class of timid politicians who were more anxious to secure seats in Congress than justice to colored loyalists. They did not know that it is always best for brave men to be brave. The lions had met in counsel, and lo, the foxes had spoken for them.

ANOTHER RADICAL FALSEHOOD.—The occasional correction of utter and unqualified falsehoods put in circulation by the rabid organs of Radical Disunionism is a necessity. The note published below exposes, promptly and emphatically, the latest of these gross fabrications of the Chronicle:

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.

Editors National Intelligencer:

Gentlemen—Allow me a brief space in your paper for the purpose of flatly contradicting an article which appeated in this morning's Chronicle, on the authority of a "reliable correspondent," to the effect that "Wendell stated that the Johnson Committee were in debt some $31,000, and that he would assess certain members of the Cabinet $6,00 each, and others $2,500," &c.

There is not a shadow of a shade of truth in the entire article, and the author thereof has been most egregiously imposed upon by a very *lie*able correspondent. C. WENDELL.

Clouds of Grasshoppers—News from Montana—Hostile Indians—Low Waters—Steamboats.

ST. JOSEPH, Sept. 25.—To-day being warm and beautiful the grasshoppers came over from Kansas in clouds.

Among the passengers by the regular Omaha packet to-day, were seventeen miners, direct from Montana. They came down from Fort Benton in a Mackinaw boat, starting on the 20th of August. They brought with them 3,000 pounds of Buffalo robes and a large amount of gold dust.—Mining operations are reported brisk, but they hold to the opinion that all the best gulches are overstocked with men.

The Indians on the upper Missouri are quite hostile just above Fort Union. These miners were fired into, but none were injured

LOCAL.

☞ Last night there was a large congregation at the Baptist church. The Rev. Joel Hardwick preached; after which, thirteen persons went forward to the anxious bench.

Service again to-night.

☞ The Fayetteville News brags over a boy compositor in his employment, and says he can set 3,000 ems per day, &c. The boy having been at "case" only about three months.

Dry up! We have a youth in our office, 14 years of age, who can set more type in a day than any other boy, 14, 16, or 18 years of age, in North Carolina, set a better proof, to boot. If any youth in the State is disposed to doubt this, we will send our Juney to give him a trial, with the understanding, if he beats his competitor, the expenses of the trip are to be paid by the challenging party.

FIGHT NEAR THE COURT HOUSE.—We understand that a rough and tumble fight came off in the neighborhood of the court house yesterday morning, between two citizens, whose names we did not learn. Dangerous place to get into a muss.

"Down in the south"—meaning, we suppose, a person "low in spirits," and a term once common enough, "in those days" when we had a feast of every thing the human appetite could crave—with a government which could be looked up to with the same confidence that a child looks up to its father—has become obsolete, and a new term, with some real meaning has taken its place

Down in the pockets.

STUBBORN.—Yesterday afternoon as a steer cart load of with wood was slowly wending its way up East Centre street one of the animals either became sulky or tired, and cast his weary frame upon the earth for a short respite from its arduous duties. Two fellows, one behind with a stout lash and one at his head with a club—after more blows than coaxing, at last succeeded in getting his oxship to rise, and, we suppose, safely reached their destination.

A four year old went to church Sunday, and when he got home his grandmother asked him what the minister said. "Don't know," said he; "he didn't speak to me." A good many older people might answer in the same way.

HARD UP.—The Weldon State gives a two week's notice to its patrons, that Dan Castello's great circus will be in that town, and that it wishes its patrons to forward the little bills due that office, in order that its employees may be certain of "going in." The editor entertains a pleasing hope, however, that Dan will pass him as a "dead head."

☞ The writer of the following is envious as well as impudent:

Men scorn to kiss among themselves,
And scarce will kiss a brother;
Women oft want to kiss so fast,
They smack and kiss each other.

The New York World says that the circulations of the New York Herald and the New York Times have greatly decreased of late, and that the tergiversations of those papers are their attempts at recovery. The people are preferring the decided to the trimming paper, now that the contest has waxed warm.

"Of course business is duller here than in Weldon, and I do not think the two hotels together are doing as much business as Capt. Farrell, who, par parenthesis, may be justly called the Ballard of North Carolina."

Cor. of Weldon State.

We think the editor of the State had better advise his correspondent "Brown" to post himself a little better in the future, when he attempts to write anything for the papers. It is, and has been generally known, for some time past, that only one hotel has been open in Goldsboro', the other having been closed over two months for repairs. Oh! Brown, Brown, that gag won't do—try your imagination again.

"Our energetic fellow-citizen and worthy Mayor, I. W. Spillman, (watch out Goldsboro' News,) will commence building next week on the corner of Blunt and Canal sts."

Weldon State.

We hope our old friend, Bush, will reconsider his determination, and not erect a stable on the corner of Blunt and Canal Streets.

Mr. Spurgeon has just notified a member of his flock that he discourages as much as possible the practice of returning thanks to God after childbirth by any of his congregation, since in most cases it is merely an absurd superstitious practice.

TO M. E. C.

BY QUINT S. ENTZ.

Sabbath bells are softly pealing,
On mine ear their cadence falling,
Wakes an echo—stirred by feeling,
Memory from her trance recalling,
To the days of olden time.

Comes a spell of mystic power
O'er my senses slowly stealing—
Drunk with dreams of brighter hours,
And in Fancy's mazes reeling,
Like a toper in his wine.

Maiden with the jewel eyes,
Orbs revealing Paradise—
Loved one with the fringing lashes,—
Lost one with the dewey lips—
Thou who turned my heart to ashes—
All thy woman's deeds eclipse,
And teach me to forget thee.

In the ghostly hours of night,
While in troubled rest I languish,
Angel visions float before me,
And I wake to woe and anguish,
Lost and dreaming still of thee.

By the memory of those hours
When our paths were strewn with flowers,
By the troth that once you plighted,
By the hopes so ruddy blighted,
By the love that once you gave me,
Maiden from these memories save me—
Teach, Oh! teach me to forget thee.

NARROW ESCAPE.—A gentleman whose name we did not learn, while driving a spirited animal on yesterday, became frightened and ran away, throwing him from his seat, but fortunately the driver, horse or sulky were not hurt.—Norfolk Times.

Was it the gentleman or the horse that "ran away?"

THE RABBIT ON THE WALL.—The following beautiful picture, drawn in beautiful colors by one who handles the "pencil of pœsy" with a master hand, will conjure up more than one bright memory of childhood's sunny hours in "hearts aged with care that beat beneath locks whitened with the frosts of time." Who, while reading it, cannot see the happy group, feel like joining in the shouts of the delighted little ones, and kissing, chirping, crowing "Johnny?"

The cottage work is over,
The evening meal is done;
Hark! through the starlight's stillness
You hear the river run.
The little children whisper;
Then speak out one and all';
Come, father, make for Johnny,
The rabbit on the wall.

He smilingly assenting,
They gather round his chair;
"Now grandma you hold Johnny—
Don't let the candle flare,"
So speaking from his fingers
He threw a shadow tall,
That seems the moment after,
A rabbit on the wall.

The children shout with laughter,
The uproar louder grows;
Even grandma chuckles faintly,
And Johnny chirps and crows.
There never was gilded painting;
Hung up in lordly hall,
Gave half the simple pleasure,
Of this rabbit on the wall.

A HEARTRENDING RECITAL—MOTHER AND TWO DAUGHTERS IN ALABAMA DIE FROM ACTUAL STARVATION.—A Correspondent of the Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser, of Sept. 15, writes: About two or three weeks ago, in a house near the fair grounds, a woman was found dead on the floor. She had fallen from the bed and must have died during the night. Around her lay four little daughters, the oldest one about twelve years of age.—Daybreak revealed to them their mother's dead body lying on the floor. But this was not all; these little girls lying around her were dying, yes, dying for the want of bread and attention. In this fix they were found and brought by some one, in a little cart to Bishop Copp's Home for Orphans. They were brought there on Friday. When these little girls came to the Home they were the picture of misery and want, and scarcely a rag on to hide their nakedness; emaciated and sallow, they looked like living skeletons, and they were crying for bread. The baby about three years old died on Saturday.—The poor little thing was too near gone for any human aid to do her any good. She begged for bread until she died.

Another one named Lizzie, about seven or eight years of age, died on Wednesday. She was a pretty little girl, but reduced to a mere skeleton. She begged those around her to give her some meat and bread to the last. The other two are still at the Home. It was thought at first that they would die too, but the oldest one, a bright, sweet little girl, is improving. Her account of the sufferings they underwent is enough to melt the hardest heart to tears—how they cried for bread and could not get it—that they had been drawing rations, but when they all got down sick they sent their ticket by a negro woman, but that the ticket was torn up and and the answer was "no more ration"—and how their poor sick mother the evening before she died, with tears streaming down her cheeks, pressed them to her bosom—and much more which this little girl told me in a straightforward manner, and which had truth stamped upon what she said. The other little girl, named Mary, about nine years of age, is still very low, and it is doubtful if she will ever get well, though she has improved some since she has been at the Home. She at first begged every one that came near her to give her some meat and bread, as she had been literally starving.

These are the plain facts as they are. They need no embellishment.

DAILY NEWS,

GOLDSBORO' N. C.

W. & J. B. WHITAKER,
PROPRIETORS.

THE ONLY DAILY PAPER BETWEEN RALEIGH and NEWBERN, and WILMINGTON and PETERSBURG.

THE VERY BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN THE STATE.

PUBLICATION RESUMED.

The publication of the Daily News, which was suspended on the 18th of May, on account of the total destruction of the office by fire, is resumed to day.

OUR DESIGN.

It is the aim of the publishers to make the paper all which its most sanguine friends desire it to be, a vehicle not only for the transmission of sound political doctrines; but for the latest and most reliable news.

No efforts will be spared to place the Daily News in the front rank of the press of the State.

OUR LOCATION.

The central position of Goldsboro', the steady and constant stream of travel which flows through it, and the ease with which news is obtained, make it one of the most eligible points in the State for the publication of a first class newspaper.

MARKETS.

Special attention will be paid to secure the most reliable reports from New York, Baltimore, Wilmington and Newbern, in addition to our Telegraphic Dispatches.

EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT.

The editor will endeavor to make this Department sound and conservative; but believing that the readers of a daily Journal greatly prefer having the latest news to any long drawn out editorials, he will seek to make his "strength rather than lengthy," filling the limited space at his disposal with items of interest and value.

LOCAL COLUMN.

Attention will be paid to the Local Department. Items of interest for this column are solicited,—if left on our table, and are found to be unobjectionable, they will promptly appear in appropriate garb.

ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

No paper in the State offers to advertisers a better medium for the circulation of information relative to goods, wares, or merchandise, real or personal estate, which they may have for sale, or which they may desire to purchase.

ON Thursday morning, the 20th instant the first number of the "WEEKLY NEWBERN COMMERCIAL" will be issued, and the publication will be continued on every succeeding Thursday morning.

The publication of the Weekly has been delayed for want of mail facilities, but now the undersigned feels warranted in issuing the Weekly.

The "Weekly Commercial" will give a hearty support to President Johnson and his magnanimous policy of restoration.—It will also support the reselection of Gov. Worth. It will be uncompromisingly opposed to Radicals and Radicalism. It will advocate strict economy in the administration of the National and State Governments. TO THE WOMEN OF THE SOUTH.

The end we propose is the cause of the South. It has neither party, nor section, nor division. The obligations of the survivors to the memory of the martyrs of the war address the South as one family. wherein, though there will be degrees of affliction and bereavement, none are without sorrow and grief. It is not, however, to hearts crushed by personal sorrows so much as to gratitude cherished for noble deeds by noble men, we appeal. With this the southern heart throbs with one impulse, and is ready to testify its inextinguishable sympathy.

It shall be our endeavor to rescue from the oblivion to which they are passing the graves of the great host which perished in the war, and sleep undistinguished in our cemetery. Their memory, history will transmit from age to age, propounding without number illustrious examples from which the noblest of every age may catch new inspiration. We propose the humbler tribute yet the more touching to relatives and friends, and even to the general heart,—that of identifying with durable monuments the ground where sleep the honored dead—tempting thither by its becoming habitude the countless throng, who would do homage to such dead. Our designation is "Hollywood Memorial Association of Richmond"—pledged to apply the means which may be provided to the permanent protection and adornment of the graves of the Confederate dead interred in Hollywood Cemetery. Those contributing to the association will be enrolled as members; and contributions may be remitted to the Treasurer, MRS. CHAS. G BARNEY, Box 810; and letters addressed to the Corresponding Secretary, MRS. DR. JAS. BOLTON. Information will be furnished at all times by the President and by any member of the Memorial Committee.

There is but one thing left us, as a people, which no enemy's hand can wrench from us:—"The memory of the Past"—Let us then keep bright the most precious jewel in our crown of sorrow"—the graves of our glorious dead. Let a people's gratitude lay immortal laurels o'er

"The sacred grave
Of those who vainly brave
Died for the land they could not save."

Virginia calls to us to assist herein the sad pleasure of perpetuating the memory of our fallen, in the eyes of the world, by erecting fitting monuments in Hollywood Cemetery, at Richmond. The work is one in which every Southern woman should delight to do her best.

I appeal to the women of North Carolina to come forward and aid their sister State, in paying the last tribute to the defenders of our "Lost Cause," remembering with feelings of just pride, that thousands of our heroic soldiers sleep well on the soil of Virginia.

I shall take pleasure in forwarding to the Treasurer of the Hollywood Memorial Association, any contributions I may receive for this purpose.

☞ All contributions will be acknowledged through the columns of the Goldsboro' Daily News.

Perpetual Calendar

"A CALENDAR FOR THE CHRISTian Era, combining the Julian and Gregorian modes of reckoning time, by James Pooley, of N. C."

Copyright Secured.

The subscriber having copyrighted this most valuable of all the "Calendars" ever presented to the public, is prepared to supply the demand for them to any extent.

Previous Efforts.

Many attempts have been made, from time to time, to secure a Calendar by which all the dates of the Christian Era could be accurately and at the same time readily, found. These attempts have heretofore signally failed, because the authors have sought to condense too much, and because they are really not conversant with the subject of which they treated, and which they vainly endeavored to elucidate.

What I claim.

I claim for the Calender, now presented, perfect simplicity of arrangement combined with the most infallible accuracy. The plan is so simple that any one who can use an ordinary Almanac, or Counting House Calendar, cannot fail to see clearly into the working of this. Time past, present or future can be immediately found.—Its accuracy will bear the test of the most rigid scrutiny. I invite criticisms, and confidently appeal to an enlightened public judgment for a frank expression of opinion as to its merits.

Supplies a Want.

To supply a want long felt, the author has appended to the Calendar, under the head of "Explanatory Remarks," a succinct, but most valuable history of the Julian Calender from the time of Julius Cæsar, and of the astronomical causes which led to the change made by Pope Gregory XIII. in 1582 These notes alone are worth the price of the Calendar.

OBJECTIONS ANSWERED.

If any object to the space the Calendar occupies, the objection is answered by the reply that any attempt at condensation would be a sacrifice of simplicity, the fatal rock on which every previous attempt has been wrecked.

WHO SHOULD HAVE IT.

Every professional man, every mechanic and farmer, all merchants and tradesmen should supply themselves with copies at once.

TESTIMONIALS.

One of the first mathematical minds of this country, Prof. Charles Phillips of the University of North Carolina, thus speaks of the Calendar:

UNIVERSITY OF N. C.
Thursday, June 21, 1866

COL. S. D. POOL,
Dear Sir

I thank you for the pleasure I have had in examining your perpetual Calendar. It is a thing of beauty—simple, extensive and accurate.—Every one who refers to dates ought to have a copy of it: the man of business, for the present; the student of history for the past; and the dabbler in prophecy for the future. To use it, with readiness and precision, one needs only brain enough to remember the year,—the month of the year,—the week of the month and the day of the week and this is about as much brain as one can get along with in these times. I found out at once some things I did not know before, viz: that the 4th July 1776 happened on Thursday, and that the 4th of July 1876 will happen on Tuesday.—Also, I was born on Thursday—a truth that is not in the family Bible I am afraid you will never be paid for your trouble for if the thing wont wear out, it wont get out of date.

Again I thank you for my treasure.
Your Respectfully
CHARLES PHILLIPS.

Gov. Swain, President of the University says: "he entirely concurs with Pro Phillips in the views he entertains concerning the value of your Almanac."

The Newbern Commercial having thoroughly examined the Calendar thus writes of it:

A CURIOUS CALENDAR.—We have received from our esteemed cotemporary, Col. S. D. Pool, of the Goldsboro' News, a most simple yet erudite chart entitled "A Calendar of Dates for the Christian Era, Combining the Julian and Gregorian Modes of Reckoning time." At the request of Col Pool, who is the proprietor of this unique production, we have carefully examined it, and find it to be one of the least pretentious and most curious publications of the day. By its use we can readily find, by the Gregorian, or New Style, the day of the week answering to any given day of the month, or the day of the month answering to any given day of the week, from the year 1600 to any future period, while the Gregorian calendar remains unaltered; and can find the same by the Julian, or Old Style, in any former year of our era or in any year to come.

The Dominical letters of the Julian calendar are introduced into the table, because that calendar was in use in this country and Great Britain until September, 1752, and was in use in Christian countries until those countries adopted the Gregorian calendar, and actually is now in use in Russia. Although we have the inclination, we have not space to speak of this excellent chart as we would like, but we will say that the established reputation of Col. Pool, as a superior scholar, will not suffer by its publication under his auspices

The author is Mr. James Ramley, of Bedford, N. C. who, during the war, undertook its production as a labor of love, and presented it to his friend, Col. Pool, as a token of his friendship and esteem. The price is fifty-cents, and it is for sale by Col Pool

Numerous other testimonials to the value of this ingenious, scientific and valuable work could be adduced, if necessary; but we deem the above sufficient to bring it to the attention of the public. When once examined its merits are at once disclosed.
